

TCI to Demonstrate DecisionLender 4.0 Loan Origination
Platform at CUNA GAC Event
Real-time Analytics and Intuitive Tools Help Credit Unions Gain a Competitive Edge

Islandia, NY, February 17, 2016 – Teledata Communications Inc. (TCI) (www.tcicredit.com), a provider of cloud-based loan origination solutions, will demonstrate its market-leading DecisionLender 4.0 loan origination solution (LOS) at the upcoming Credit Union National Association Governmental Affairs Conference (CUNA GAC), scheduled for February 21 to 25 at the Washington Convention Center in Washington, D.C. TCI will be located at booth #122 throughout the exhibition.

The DecisionLender 4.0 loan origination platform provides a number of first-to-market features that enable credit unions to self-administer their lending programs to meet the real-time needs of a rapidly changing marketplace. Through DecisionLender 4.0, lenders can instantly build or change data fields, lending rules and parameters, adjust workflows, build scorecards, and create reports—without requiring development resources or internal IT support. DecisionLender 4.0 also provides a number of analytic tools, which enable lenders to obtain real-time visibility into business performance. This unparalleled flexibility empowers credit unions to optimize efficiency, reduce costs, expedite loan approvals, and compete more effectively in a fast-changing marketplace.

“DecisionLender 4.0 represents a completely new approach in loan origination technology, which will result in immediate benefits for credit unions,” said Barry Kirby, vice president of sales for TCI. “Through this platform, credit unions can easily create and adjust lending programs on their own, which helps customers streamline efficiency and capitalize on fast-moving business opportunities. This unprecedented level of flexibility and agility is essential in today’s competitive environment. We’re eager to highlight these market-leading capabilities at CUNA GAC.”

CUNA GAC brings together thousands of credit union leaders to showcase their latest products and services available to credit unions. The conference provides a number of educational and peer network opportunities to attendees.
