Islandia, NY, January 23, 2017 –Teledata Communications, Inc. (TCI) (www.tcicredit.com), a provider of cloud-based loan origination solutions for credit unions, banks and finance companies, will showcase its widely-deployed DecisionLender 4 loan origination solution at the American Financial Services Association’s (AFSA) Vehicle Finance Conference and Expo. The event is taking place January 24-26 at the Sheraton New Orleans Hotel in New Orleans. TCI will be located at booth 301, and will be providing demonstrations throughout the exposition.

DecisionLender is a cloud-based loan origination system that has been adopted by hundreds of lenders across the country. Through unsurpassed flexibility and configurability, it enables automobile lenders to automate and manage their loan origination workflows, create and adjust decisioning rules and parameters, authenticate applicants, manage documents, implement eSignature, and design reports— without using IT resources. Lenders can also run various simulations to optimize lending programs and mitigate risk.

“Auto lenders are facing enormous pressure in the market, where they must satisfy growing dealer needs for faster decisioning and processing, while paying even closer attention to risk factors,” said Bill Nass, TCI’s president. “DecisionLender 4 is designed to help lenders substantially improve in these critical areas. Each lender approaches the marketplace differently and our solution allows lenders to design their own unique loan processing workflow and run stress tests on specific loan scenarios thus increasing the efficiency and profitability of the entire auto lending program. We’re looking forward to demonstrate this platform at AFSA.”
